Fuel Dealers Must Have License to Issue Exemption Tax Claims

Beginning September 1, all dealers of Motor Fuel must have a license to issue a valid invoice of exemption, and by law the Comptroller cannot pay refund claims on invoices of exemption issued by un-licensed dealers, it has been announced by Geo. H. Sheppard, Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Application blanks for license may be obtained from the Comptroller of Public Accounts, Austin, free of charge, postage prepaid, or from local State Tax Supervisors.

Prior to the new law, dealers had their own forms printed a duplicate of which was given the customer when gasoline was purchased to be used in tractors and other farm machinery. In this way refunds were sometimes made to those not entitled to them and it is believed the use of license will remedy the situation.

79 Jobs Filled In July By Employment Service In Cameron

Workers placed in jobs by the office of the Texas State Employment Service varied from sales people to laborers, an analysis of the 79 jobs filled in Cameron during the month of July disclosed.

These men and women having previouly registered at the employment office were called in and given a "referral card" to an employer who had an opening in his plant, office, home, farm or factory. The worker was then interviewed by the employer who made the final selection.

During July there were a total of 1074 personal calls made by individuals at the employment office; employers seeking workers, claimants filing claims for unemployment compensation, applicants looking for jobs or wanting information about work opportunities, R. C. Moody, local manager, reported.

Farm work in Milam County continues at a high point, Moody says, 213 farm jobs having been filled in July. Cotton chopping and corn pulling were the major activities with gins and other related industries turning up for the cotton harvest which is just around the corner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Caffey of Salty were Cameron visitors Friday.

G. D. Reat of Yarrellton was a business visitor here today.

Law Enforcement Rally Friday Night

Circulars issued today for general circulation throughout Milam county call for a law enforcement rally to be held on the lawn of the First Baptist Church in Cameron on Friday night, August 18.

Judge Graham Gillis will deliver an address and the committee on the program said all officers would be given an opportunity to pledge their support to law enforcement. The committee is composed of F. J. Beckerman, J. C. Burke and J. C. Mayfield.

The purpose of the meeting, declared the circulars, is "to give expression to a wide general demand for law enforcement in Milam county; to stamp out Gambling; to suppress the unspeakable Honky Tonk and Road Houses; to close Public Dance Halls and Domino Parlors and in every way possible restore respect for the Law and rectify conditions of immorality and to make war on vice and crime."

Evidence that citizens believe conditions in Milam county are unwholesome is indicated by this rally and a statement from the committee says that vigilance will be continued and the fight on immoral conditions will be expanded to include dance halls operated in connection with the sale of alcoholic beverages. These spots were declared to be a problem in maintaining order.

Governor O'Daniel was commended for his stand on law enforcement. Recent removal of marble and slot machines from Milam county resulted from activity on the part of a committee of citizens.

Highway 69 Is On Program for 1940

It was unofficially reported Friday that paving on Highway 69 between Cameron and Maysfield would begin on September 1. This report could not be verified, however, Judge Jeff T. Kemp said that Representative Reese Turner has been assured by Julian Montgomery, state highway engineer of the Texas State Highway Commission that Highway 69 would be included on the highway program for next year.

This highway has been the source of dissatisfaction for some time. The road committee of the local Chamber of Commerce has endeavored to get a paving project on this highway for the past several years.

Bob Murphy, manager for the A. & W. Sales Company in Cameron and J. Z. Young, both widely known young business men, will open a store in Hearne soon, probably September, it was announced here Saturday.

The company here sells auto supplies and hardware and the store in Hearne will stock similar merchandise. Bob is President of the Stove Lid League an ardent basketball and football fan and will be missed by local sportsmen.

Fire Starting From Oil Stove Burns Home

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hrachovi of North Elm had the misfortune of having their home destroyed by fire Friday morning. The fire started from an oil stove. Mrs. Hrachovi said she lighted the burner and went into another room where one of the children was ill. Later she said they heard a roaring sound and when she went back to the kitchen, the fire had spread until it could not be extinguished. The house was the property of Mrs. Viola Marek. It was understood there was no insurance to cover the loss.

ATTENTION NEW PUPILS

There will be a meeting at Yoe High School Saturday afternoon, August 19 at 2 o'clock for the purpose of making work schedules for those students who will enter Yoe High School for the first time in September, E. A. Perrin, superintendent, said Monday morning. Faculty members will be present to advise new students regarding their prospective subject for their course of study for the coming term. Students are asked to bring their high school report cards or if they will be in the eighth grade, to bring their 7th grade report card.

Post card greetings from Robert McLane and his grand daughter, Miss Mary Katherine Lawrence say they are enjoying the interesting sights in South Carolina. It is the first visit Mr. McLane has made back to his old home in many years.

REPORT SHOWS DECLINE IN STUDENT TRANSGERS

The official number of student transfers from Milam county schools for the 1939-40 term is 1146, it was announced Wednesday by County Superintendent, Guy T. Newton. The total number last year was 1168 making a reduction of 22 transfers for this year.

The number of transfers from rural school districts to Cameron schools is 241 including 213 whites and 28 colored. This number also shows a decline in transfers as compared with those of last year, when 277 whites and 17 colored were enrolled. Mr. Newton said this reduction might be contributed somewhat to the fact that Buckholts and Ad Hall have added another grade for the ensuing year. Approximately 100 transfers were cancelled by the County School Board when it was in session here Monday. There will no doubt be a number of students to attend school here who did not transfer.

Milam Farmers Get $538,889.92 For Compliance With AAA

Practically all of the Milam County farms complying with the AAA program have been measured, it has been announced by the local office.

5,921 checks amounting to $538,889.92 have been received by Milam county farmers who complied with the 1938 program. The total payments are expected to total approximately $550,000.00.

Applications are now being received for parity payments.

FILE INJUNCTION WHEN TRUSTEES MOVE BUILDING

An injunction against the trustees of the Marlow school district by a delegation of citizens who were opposed to changing the location of the negro school building, was filed before the County School Board when they met in special session Thursday morning to consider the matter.

Moving of the school building was said to be more convenient to negro school children and the matter had previously been brought before the Board who said the matter did not come under their jurisdiction and left it up to the local board of trustees. When trustees started tearing down the building to move it, certain citizens objected and filed the injunction. The matter was again dismissed by the County School Board and left in the hands of the local trustees.

Saturday evenening, Sunday morning and Sunday evening worship services will be conducted at Yarrellton Baptist Church this coming week end, it has been announced by the pastor, Rev. Joseph Underwood. With Rev. Underwood will be his bride, the former Miss Mray Lee Oxford of Baton Rouge, La., the wedding having taken place this week in Baton Rouge.

Fire Protection For Rural Areas Sought In County

County-wide fire protection may result from a plea made Wednesday to the Commissioners' Court by a delegation of citizens and firemen of Cameron and Rockdale.

John E. Cooke, former publisher of the Rockdale Reporter and now post master, said the plan is to finance two trucks to be used in answering fire alarms in the rural districts. These trucks would be in chasis form carrying large water tanks. Mr. Cooke said that firemen have great difficulty in answering alarms in the rural districts, running the large trucks over gravel roads.

If the Commissioners' Court agrees to purchase an old truck in Rockdale and one in Cameron, the respective cities could then replace this equipment with new trucks.

Preston Foster and Lynn Bari Head Cast Of Adventure, Aug. 19

The Mediterranean Sea was so named by the ancients because they thought it was at the middle of the earth. They may have been quite wrong, geographically, but the Sea is still the center of attention for most of the world. Such names as Gibraltar, Tunisia, Suez, Morocco—they all invoke visions of great fortresses, powerful navies, and they all are on the Mediterranean.

And while the world is somewhat gingerly seated upon the Mediterranean powder keg, Preston Foster and Wally Vernon, two newsreel photographers in the 20th Century-Fox drama coming to the Cameron Theatre Saturday, August 19, chase a dame! These camera daredevils roar in where brave men fear to tread, matching wits with spies and lips with sirens, in the thrill-packed "Chasing Danger." Foster and Lynn Bari are featured in the cast including Vernon, Henry Wilcoxon, Joan Woodbury and Harold Huber.

A pair of harum-scarum Americans on the loose, ready for romance or riots, Foster and Vernon find plenty of both when they trail the lovely Lynn Bari to Morocco and set off international dynamite in a North African revolt staged right in front of their newsreel cameras.

The screen play by Robert Ellis and Helen Logan is replete with beauties and bullets, romance and riots, revelry and revolt. It is based on an original story by Leonardo Bercovici and directed by Ricardo Cortez.

Fred Jackson, proprietor of the Blue Bonnet Cafe, is enjoying a visit with his relatives in Kansas City, Mo. In his absence Mrs. Jackson is taking care of the Cafe.

Reduction of 5c on the County's tax rate was forecast Thursday as the Commissioners' Court prepared to resume consideration of the levy for 1939. The tax rate for 1938 was fixed at 75c by the court. The reduction thought to be contemplated by the court for this year, will save the tax payers only the small sum of $7,834,32, based on a valuation of $15,668,640.00.

County Judge Jeff T. Kemp could not make any statement Thursday morning regarding any reduction in the rate but it was believed that the court has under consideration a reduction of at least 5c. Judge Kemp was expected to make a statement for the court after the meeting on Thursday.

The taxable values for Milam Co., for 1939 were increased $235,990.00 and this would increase the revenue of the county only $117.99 based on the rate for 1938. The reduction proposed would be a slight relief as may be seen from a comparison from the rate for last year and the rate which is expected to be put into effect for 1939.

Citizen Must Help if Law Is to Prevail Says Judge

If law is to be enforced in Milam county and in the nation at large, the citizen must realize that his duty is not only to serve on trial juries and grand juries but to become better informed on the subject of law, said Judge Graham Gillis Wednesday in an address before the Cameron Rotary Club.

To give the audience a better understanding of the subject "Law Enforcement" he discussed written law in the United States from the Declaration of Independence up to the present time. The duty of the citizen to serve as a juror is paramount to every other consideration if law is to be made responsive to public sentiment. The kind of law enformement any county or state gets is measured by the consideration given to these duties by the citizen.

Judge Gillis emphasized the necessity for all citizens to exercise the right to serve and to perform this duty. If citizens inform themselves properly, the problem of law enforcement will be made easier.

Citizens should remember, said Judge Gillis, that law guarantees to the citizen many privileges along with responsibilities and it is equally important that with each privilege he enjoys there is the duty to see that his neighbor enjoys the same privilege.

Judge Gillis and son, Billy Gillis, who is a student at West Point, the nation's war college, were the only guests for the day.

Following the luncheon P. W. Davis called a meeting of the program committee and announced that J. P. Love would be guest speaker next Wednesday.

Gus Evans, Jr., now completing a course in Optometry in Memphis, Tennessee, will soon return to Cameron to enter practice with his father, Gus Evans, Sr.

In a letter to the Herald this week, Gus, says he enjoys reading the Daily Midget, sent to him by his parents. He likes it well enough to take the time to express his appreciation to the publisher.

Gus, former star end on the Yoemen team, wants to know about prospects for this fall. He graduated from Yoe High School and went to Memphis. When he returns to Cameron he will find thousands of friends waiting to give him a hearty handshake and welcome. A home town boy making good and coming back to his native city, is a good sign.

He has traveled widely and is now doing missionary work in America. For five years an American missionary lived in his kingdom in British East Africa. Bob Burns Brings New Film To The Cameron Theatre

"Our Leading Citizen," Paramount's colorful, honest creen treatment of a vital contemporary American problem, will bring Bob Burns back to town in a role which is being hailed as the best of his career. When the picture is presented locally for the first time on Thursday and Friday, August 17 and 18 at the Cameron Theatre, Bob will be seen as a man who is a lawer by profession, a philosopher by instinct, a real dyed in the wool, down to earth, 100 per cent American character who believes in the principles of democracy, of square dealing with his fellow men.

As in his other starring successes, Bob is once more aided by a grand supporting cast. Numbered among them are Susan Hayward and Joseph Allen, Jr., members of the "Golden Circle," select group of young paramount players slated for stardom, cast as Bob's daughter and his junior law partner, respectively. The supporting cast also includes Elizabeth Patterson, Gene Lockhart, as an industrialist and Charles Bickford as the chief of a gang of strike breakers.

The Irvin S. Cobb story is concerned with Bob's efforts to restore law and order in a thriving American city when an industrialist puts through a ten per cent pay cut at one of his mills despite the fact that business is good. Bob and his junior partner have been retained as counsel for Lockhart, and when the latter refuses to reconsider, Bob resigns as his counsel.

Mill is Bombed

Lockhart's next move is to call in strike breakers. Then agitators arrive in town to urge the workers to meet force with force. To cap all, the mill is bombed, and two of the workers' leaders are killed.

A Citizen's Meeting is called by responsible members of the community. Bob speaks in behalf of dispensing with 'isms' with all outside influences which are causing more trouble in the dispute. Lockhart turns the meeting into a political rally by revoking the pay cut, and announcing that he will nominate Allen for Junior Senator at the forthcoming State Convention.

It would be giving away too much of the story to tell how Bob goes into action, deals with the leader of the strike breakers, Bickford, in a thrilling fist fight, and finally is nominated to run for the Senate in place of Allen!

Of course, there are grand romantic moments in the picture, involving Miss Hayward and Allen. In the course of the story, Bob has plenty of trouble keeping them together, but he deals with their difficulties in stride.

Alfred Santell, who directed Bob in "The Arkansas Traveler," directed the picture. John C. Moffitt wrote the screenplay.

PLYMOUTH ROCK

Seldom published, but a matter of unquestionable historic record, is the fact that a basic reason for founding the Pilgrim Colony at Plymouth was a shortage of beer on the Mayflower. Bound for Virginia, the voyage was shortened, the landing made on New England's rocky coast, because . . . "we could not now take time for further search: our victuals being much spent, especially our beer." This is the rock, 37 miles southeast of Boston, where they first set foot in 1620 to establish the first permanent English colony north of the Virginia settlement.

No other beer duplicates the Flavor, Body and Quality that make PEARL Famous!

One of Governor Bradford's constant complaints in the early colonial days, was against the scarcity of good beer. Pity that robust character could not have survived to enjoy the rich, robust goodness of delicious, sparkling PEARL Beer.

Today's ever increasing demand for PEARL Beer is but the fulfillment of wholesome American tradition. Your enjoyment of it is the fulfillment of your better taste-judgment. For purity, flavor and palate-pleasing tang it can't be matched. That's why you always enjoy saying, "Bottle of PEARL, please!"

Enjoy that "EXTRA SOMETHING" that has made PEARL BEER the "Thirst Choice" of Texas

The word of users everywhere is given to show how CARDUI helps to improve appetite and digestion, and thus build up physical resistance. In this way it also works to relieve the headaches, nervousness, depression, that attend functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition. Have you tried CARDUI?

..DID you ever get CHEWING GUM on your SHOE?

. . . Yes? Then you'll know what we're talking about when we say that motor oil oxidation in your motor causes a stickier mess than gum on your shoe. And, let us advise you, motor oil oxidation is fairly common when you use an inferior oil in a modern car. It's a chemical change brought about by higher operating temperatures, faster speeds, narrower clearances between pistons and cylinder walls; even streamlining contributes to it. As inferior motor oils combine with oxygen—that is, oxidize—under heat and pressure, they form a gooey mess of sludge, gum and varnish-like substances; and this mess in any case retards engine efficiency, and at worst causes expensive repair jobs. . . . So you want to avoid it, of course. . . . The best way is to use a modern motor oil in your modern car—to drain your crankcase and refill with Humble's Balanced 997. . . . This definitely improved Humble product is balanced to give you: a clean motor, low oil consumption, safe service, great stability at high and low temperatures, minimum engine wear, freedom from sticky gum and varnish-like formations on pistons and piston rings, easy starting in winter, instant lubrication, a perfect seal between piston rings and cylinder walls, low carbon, easy pumpability and circulation. . . . Stop at the nearest Humble sign and ask for BALANCED 997—why not today!

EVANS-DE LAUREAL

A wedding of much interest to hundreds of friends over the state occurred at 9 o'clock Saturday morning when Miss Laurita Evans and Dr. Thomas Hugh De Laureal of Temple were married in a quiet ceremony at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Evans of Cameron.

Rev. V. M. Cloyd, pastor of First Baptist Church performed the ceremony. Miss Arnett Ryan played the wedding music. Only relatives of the couple and close friends were present for the ceremony.

The ceremony was performed before the fireplace in the living room beautifully decorated with palms and tall white baskets containing giant roses and purple asters. A long arrangement of purple asters was placed on the mantel. The bride was given in marrage by her father. For her wedding dress she chose a fall street model of tunis blue alpaca draped at the waistline with mulberry alpaca and shirred in the back into a modified bustle. She wore black accessories with a turban and veil. A locket belonging to her mother was worn about her neck and her boquet was a single white orchid. She carried a white Bible which was a gift of her mother.

Miss Ryan was dressed in a navy sheer and wore a corsage of cerise pom pom asters and Mrs. Evans the bride's mother, wore a black sheer with a gardenia corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was enjoyed at which time the bride cut the heart shaped cake embossed with rosebuds and tied with ribbon. Mrs. Vernon Collins of Austin served the cake in a beautifully decorated dining room.

Mrs. De Laureal is a graduate of Yoe High School and for the past several years has been employed with the Temple Life Insurance Company. Dr. De Laureal is the son of Dr. and Mrs. G. R. De Laureal of Broussard, La. For the past three years he has been a member of the junior staff of doctors at Scott and White Hospital in Temple. He received his B. S. degree from Southwestern University at LaFayette, La., and his medical degree from Tulane University.

Following the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to Galveston after which they will go to Colorado, later returning to Temple where they will make their home.
